

Going out on a limb for the holidays

FRANCESCA PEREZ / Statesman Journal

STRINGING LIGHTS: Josh Rumney (left) of Elwood's Tree Service helps string lights Thursday on one of Willamette University's nearly 140-foot-tall trees. Michael George (above) of Elwood's prepares to climb one of the trees to hang lights, which will be lighted Saturday in a campus ceremony opposite the state Capitol. Events begin about 5:30 p.m.; the lighting is at 6:30 p.m.